

National IPA/TCPN Statement on EDGAR Requirements

Since the new EDGAR requirements were released, National IPA/TCPN has received many questions asking if the cooperative contracts offered through National IPA/TCPN meet EDGAR requirements.

Our lead agencies award their cooperative contracts through a process that complies with their applicable federal, state and local laws. All National IPA/TCPN cooperative contracts are awarded through a public competitive solicitation process that is consistent, well-documented, and publicly viewable on www.NationalIPA.org and www.TCPN.org. All solicitation process and contract documentation is available on these websites to assist agencies in determining if the processes followed are compliant with EDGAR or any other requirements agencies wish to comply with prior to accessing a cooperative contract. National IPA/TCPN does not provide any assurances to participating agencies that the processes utilized by lead agencies meet participating agencies unique internal compliance requirements, but we hope the information we provide is valuable to you in confirming compliance independently.

At National IPA/TCPN, we want to simplify procurement for our participants. We value our reputation for transparency and compliance above all.

Please contact your dedicated National IPA/TCPN Regional Manager if you would like to discuss the requirements further. Thank you.
